

ShEEP

Shetland Environmental Education Partnership

Shetland Environmental Education Partnership (ShEEP) is a group of local organisations with an environmental remit working in partnership to support education throughout the Shetland Islands.

We offer knowledge and expertise in a wide range of fields relating to the local area and environment.

We believe it is important for all of us to take a coordinated approach to supporting education in Shetland.

This information is available on GLOW and is updated regularly. Contact stephenrenwick@shetland.gov.uk for more details.

Who are ShEEP?

Royal Society for the Protection of Birds (RSPB)
Scottish Natural Heritage (SNH)
NAFC Marine Centre
Bronze Age Bressay (BAB)
SEPA

Shetland Islands Council (SIC):
Education Department
Environment and Resource Management Unit
Living Shetland

Shetland Amenity Trust (SAT):
Archaeology Section
Ranger Service
Woodlands Section
Geopark Shetland
Carbon Reduction Shetland
Shetland Museum and Archives
Chris Brown (Former Head Teacher)

What are our aims?

To raise awareness and understanding of Shetland and the wider environment.

To Work in partnership with education providers at all levels to offer resources and activities in support of lifelong learning.

To promote health and wellbeing through active enjoyment of the outdoors.

How will we achieve them?

Talks / Lectures

Hands on activities / workshops

Guided Walks

Field Trips

Roadshows

Advice

Funding

Supporting the Eco Schools initiative

Development of resources and activities in line with the Scottish Curriculum for Excellence.